

'And the Word Was God', 1987

Co-Director

14 minute video

Produced by Ruby Truly

This one got started when I was studying Cree in Ann Anderson's class at Grant McKuen college in Edmonton. The only text available at that time was the one the evangelist missionaries used. Although in my teens at that time I was stricken with the found poem quality of the English side of some declension exercises and several years later I got fellow video artist Ruby Truly to read them for me. She then invited me to help her put this text into a context. As the result is a single continuous take, involving rear screen projection and two cameras it was a very long night ...

- Purchased by Canadian Embassy, Tokyo , 1991
- Purchased by the National Art Gallery of Canada,1990
- Exhibition at Women of Color Film and Video Festival, Vancouver 1989
- Selected for the American Film Institute Festival '88, Los Angeles, California. 1988
- Exhibits at 'Artpropolis' in Vancouver, and worldwide through the 'Infermental International Video Festival'. 1987